Right for Rugby Help us review your local plan

It's time to review the Local Plan

The local plan sets out planning policies and proposals for new development to make sure the Rugby Borough is a great place to live, work and do business. It is prepared in consultation with residents, businesses and other stakeholders.

Councils must review their local plan every five years. Rugby Borough's current plan was approved in 2019.

The local plan defines many things including:

- Where housing can be built
- Which land can be used to provide employment
- How vital infrastructure needs can be met, like schools, green spaces, health care facilities and transport links

Issues and Options

Things we are reviewing

- How we can regenerate Rugby town centre.
- Where new housing developments can take place.
- Additional land for employment uses.
- Meeting the pitch needs of gypsies and travellers.

New things we are considering

- Embedding climate and nature policies throughout the plan.
- Driving up the quality of development with a new design code.
- Limiting concentrations of Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMO).
